Senate Constitution Amendment #02
Introduced by: Nathan Harmer, General Senator Supported by: Ivy Oeltjenbruns, Brian Vertullo, Michael Garippo

Article III
Section 6: Legislation
Subsection V
A. Introduction
   1. All Bylaws & Resolutions brought before the Senate must be sponsored by at least one senator and submitted to the Administrative Assistant no less than three (3) days prior to a session.
   2. The Senate can consider to add a Resolution to the agenda of a session that was not submitted in the time frame above with a unanimous vote of the senate.
B. First Reading
   1. All Bylaws & Resolutions shall first be presented to the Senate and then assigned to the appropriate committee by the Vice-President upon motion to continue the legislative process. If an emergency is declared and the senate approves the Resolution with a ⅔ majority vote, a Resolution can skip committee action and second reading and go straight to final disposition. If an emergency is declared, it will change the number of days the President has to veto from (7) days to (2) days. (Article III Subsection 6.F.1)

F. Presidential Veto
   1. The President shall have veto power over all passed Bylaws and Resolutions.
      The President will retain the right to veto legislation in its entirety. Should the President fail to veto legislation within seven (7) days of passage, it shall be considered passed. The President shall provide a written statement of the reason(s) in the event of a veto. If the Senate has declared an emergency, then the number of days the president has to veto a Resolution will change to (2) days after the passage of the Resolution.
